

NOT-FOR-PROFIT SERVICES

INDUSTRY EXPERIENCE

Not-for-Profit organizations face different challenges than traditional businesses. With deep knowledge and experience in the Not-for-Profit industry, Windham Brannon has the ability to help you address and overcome these unique issues.

We have invested significant time and resources hiring, training, and developing staff to ensure that we provide knowledgeable and complete services to our clients.

Our firm encourages a community-minded environment, and many of our employees are actively involved as volunteers and board members in their community, schools, and churches. This level of personal involvement gives us a better, practical understanding of the issues that affect our Not-for-Profit clients, such as heightened governance, increasingly complex accounting standards and greater transparency.
